The Aparto family offers a comprehensive selection of bedside cabinets with various arrangements of doors, drawers and open compartments, to meet a wide range of individual requirements.

Available as a stand-alone bedside cabinet or in combination with a height-adjustable overbed table, and as either a standard-height or low-height model, to meet the requirements of modern care with regard to fall prevention.

To complete the Aparto family, two server versions are available, as well as models with an integrated refrigerator. Either with a 20-litre refrigerator drawer, always in combination with a height adjustable overbed table, or as a stand-alone 30-litre refrigerator with a door. The servers can be “parked” above any of the stand-alone variants to save space.

Every cabinet body variant with side edges, regardless of its customised arrangement, can also be combined with the innovative overbed table.

If a larger surface is needed, even without a height-adjustable overbed table, all variants can be configured with a rounded top surface and slide-out tray.

Less strain on caregivers thanks to large castors and gas-spring assisted height adjustment

Quick and reliable hygiene thanks to effortless removal of the tabletops

More convenience for residents thanks to useful and easily attachable accessories

Promote and maintain independence with the easy-to-operate overbed table

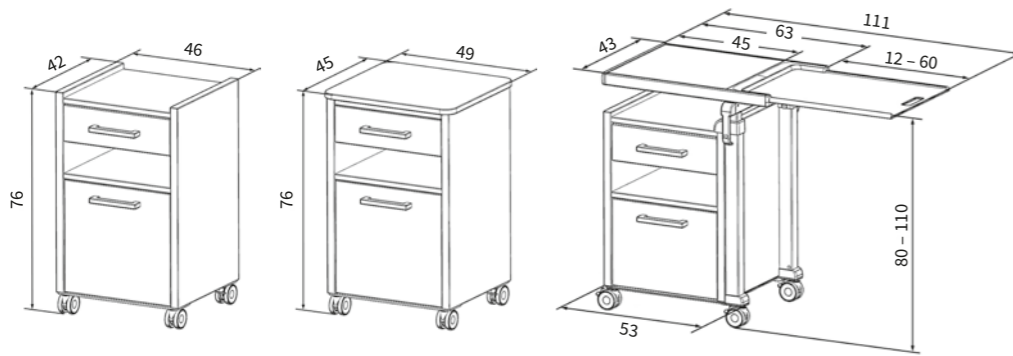

Aparto

The modular bedside cabinet with numerous options

The configuration options of the Aparto family meet individual requirements. Better visual orientation, easy accessibility and secure storage can be combined in one unit. And that's not all – Aparto incorporates design innovations that will convince residents and caregivers alike. The intuitive release and innovative design of the overbed table promotes the resident's independence. With its large castors, caregivers can manoeuvre the bedside cabinet effortlessly. This makes their work more efficient.

Flexible and future-proof

Rotatable cabinet body, for use on either side of the bed.

▲ Once retracted, the overbed table is stowed in a space-saving way.

▲ For people who would like to continue to use the proven Stieglmeyer technology, the Aparto can be ordered with "Somero adapters". This enables the fold-away tilting overbed table of the Somero model to be attached.

▲ Ample room for everyday objects: the stable overbed table offers a place for meals, books and care utensils. Residents and caregivers have their hands free at all times.

▲ The integrated slide-out tray provides a practical extension to the usable cabinet surface, whenever required.

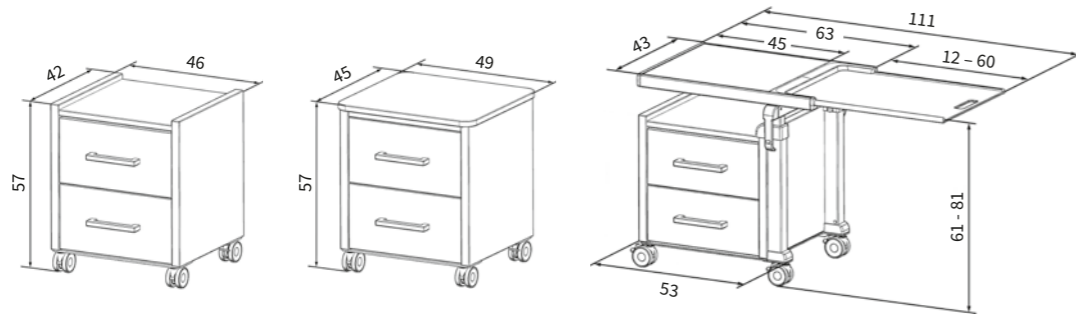

▲ The Aparto's large, sturdy tabletops can also be used in the daily care routine – for washing bowls or medical devices.

Aparto brevo

The low-height bedside cabinet without compromises

Low-height bedside cabinets offer residents more security, independence and orientation every day in low-height or floor level beds. Stored items are easier to reach and recognise.

With its Aparto brevo, the Aparto range also offers a variant with an innovative, easy-to-use overbed table – a unique selling point.

▲ Even with floor level beds, the height-adjustable overbed table offers a high level of comfort and a convenient surface to store items.

▲ Residents who have a higher risk of falling and need a floor level bed tend to experience many restrictions in their everyday life. With the low-height Aparto brevo, they can regain a bit of their quality of life.

▼ Its height-adjustable overbed table also gives the bedside cabinet an ergonomic, back-friendly surface for caregivers to place things on.

▼ Even residents with physical limitations can always reach their personal belongings on the Aparto brevo.

Low-height bed variants

Low-height bedside cabinet for low-height and floor level beds

Smart at any height

Its great flexibility allows for particularly economical use of the Aparto brevo:

- Usable at any height with its height-adjustable overbed table from about 61 to 81 cm
- Ideal companion for floor level, low-height and standard care beds
- Back-friendly work and storage surface for caregivers
- Its rotating body and easy manoeuvrability ensure its usability in different positions in the room

Adaptable: useable on either side of the bed

The Aparto product range offers rotatable cabinet body

Enjoy the new flexibility that comes with our Aparto bedside cabinets: Because its body can be rotated, without using tools, each Aparto can be used anywhere – even, for example, if a resident's health calls for a medically indicated alteration. This lets all care units work economically and benefit from great planning certainty.

Flexible and future-proof

Rotatable cabinet body, for use on either side of the bed.

The removable overbed table

Better hygiene with minimal effort

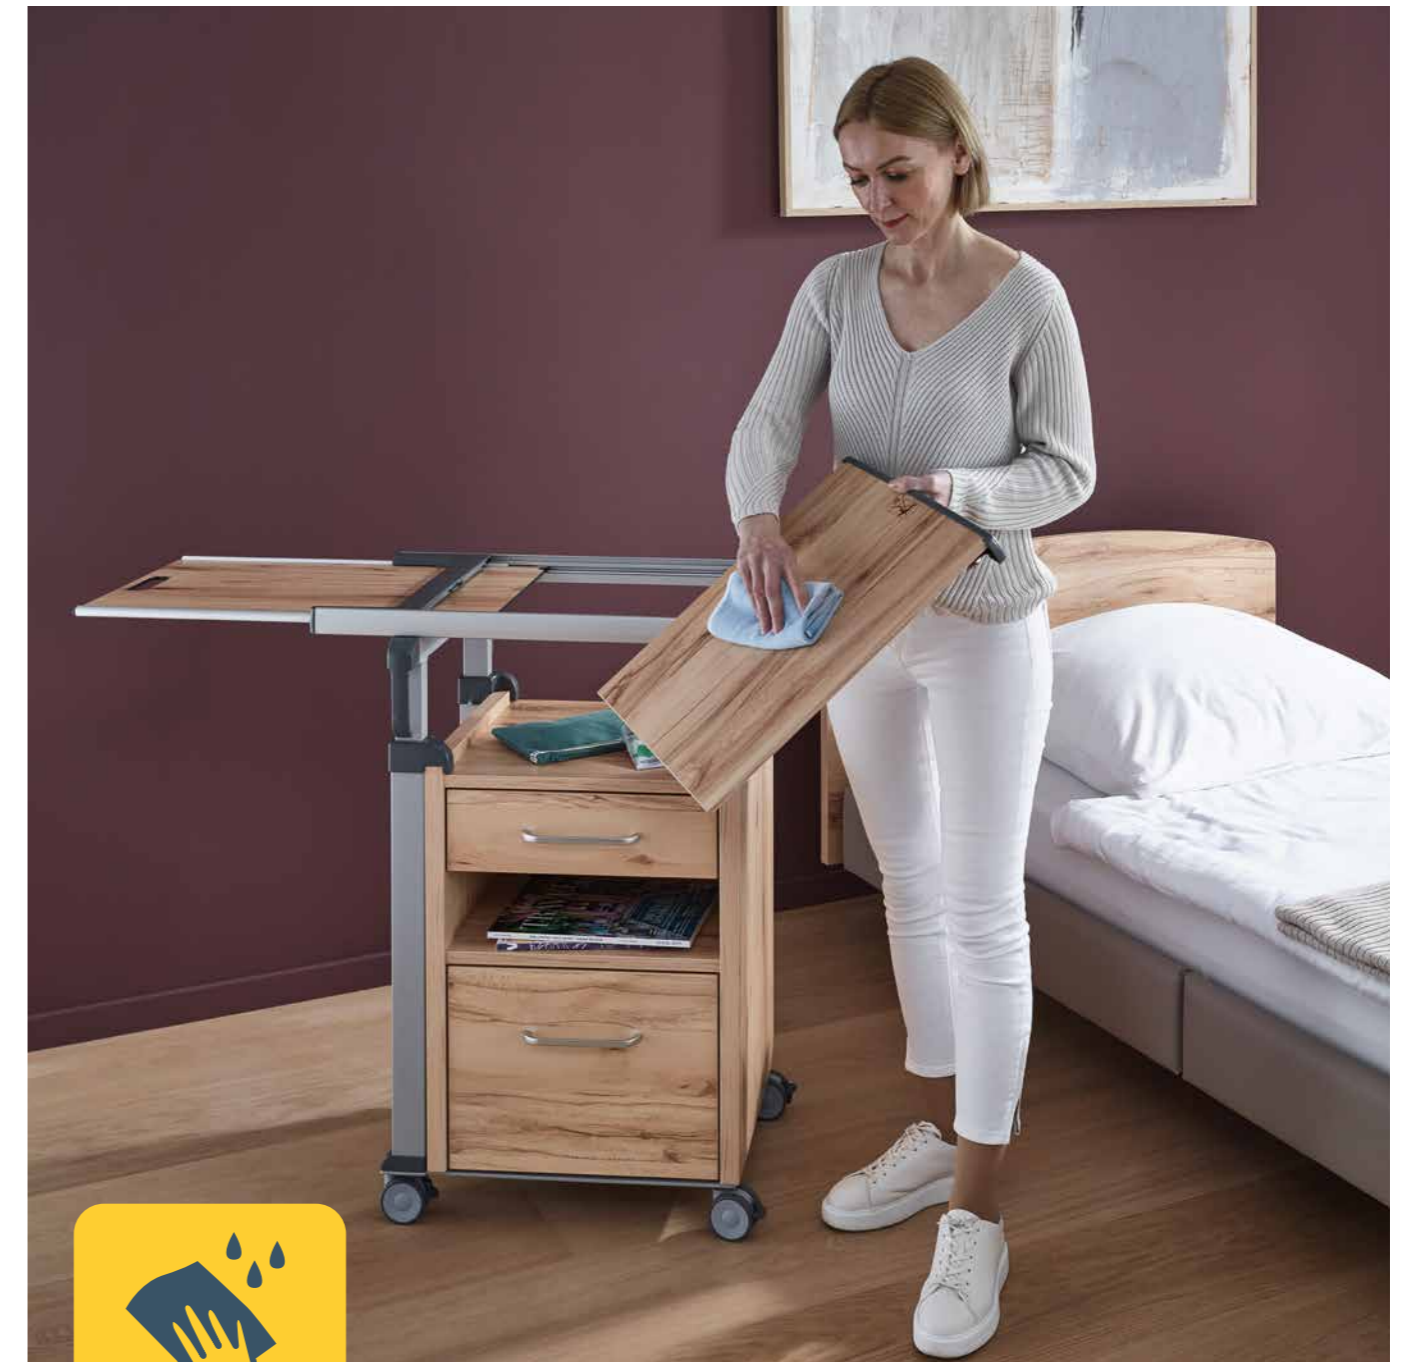

The overbed table can be removed in seconds, without the need for tools. This means that all the surfaces – including those that would otherwise be difficult to reach – can be cleaned quickly and conveniently. This also facilitates particularly thorough disinfection and reliably reduces any accumulation of germs and bacteria. Particularly in care environments, hygiene is significantly improved and the risk of infection for both residents and caregivers is reduced.

▲ Step 2: Gently push the cabinet body to the left and forwards following the slotted guide, and rotate it.

▲ Step 3: Position the cabinet body as required and engage the cabinet body lock.

Hygiene

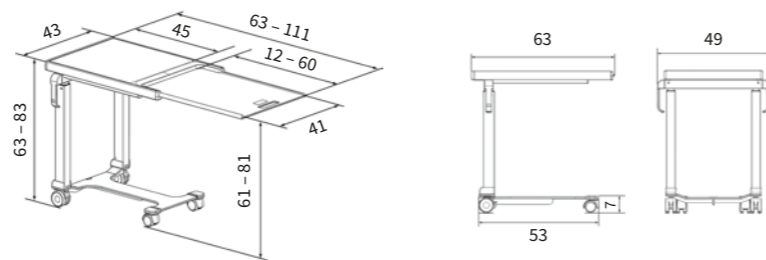

The overbed table can be completely removed for cleaning.

Servers of the Aparto range

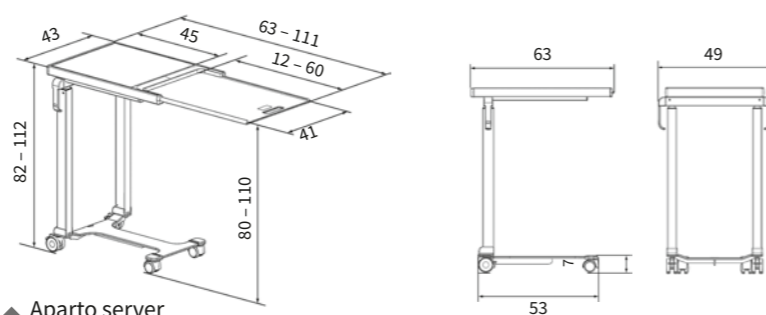

The Aparto family of bedside cabinets has grown to include both the Aparto server and the Aparto brevo server. The brevo low-height variant, in particular, is the ideal companion for floor level beds such as our Tereno model and makes an excellent mobile side table for upholstered furniture such as the Luna or Sento models. The innovative functions of the Aparto family, such as the space-saving slide-in overbed table and the uncomplicated cleaning options, have also been adopted for the servers.

▲ The easy-to-adjust height of the Aparto family of servers is ideal for taking care of residents in bed.

▲ Aparto brevo server

▲ Aparto server

▲ When not in use, the mobile server can be wheeled over an Aparto bedside cabinet to save space.

▲ Thanks to its excellent manoeuvrability, the Pleto server is extremely versatile in everyday care situations.

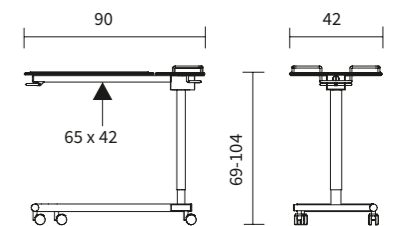

▲ The Pleto server is available with a one-piece horizontal tabletop.

▲ A split tabletop, where the larger section can be tilted, is available as an alternative.

Pleto server

- Perfectly adaptable: large adjustment range from 69 – 104 cm
- Two tabletop variants:
 - One-piece tabletop: ideal for mealtimes and for the safe storage of items
 - Split tabletop: the tilting section makes a convenient writing desk
- The C-shaped frame allows the server to be placed right beside the bed or chair
- Safe and practical: height adjustable even if the release handle is not used – no danger of injury if the height of the bed is adjusted

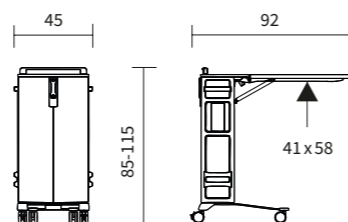

▲ The overbed table of the Quado folds down easily and softly.

▲ The Quado can be effortlessly adjusted to the desired height, between 85 and 115 cm, thanks to its gas spring support.

Quado

- Lots of storage space: a drawer and two roomy compartments – accessible from either side
- Flexible use:
 - Height-adjustable body
 - Fold-down overbed table – ideal for taking meals in bed
- Light and mobile: its outstanding manoeuvrability makes it an ideal trolley for medicines and care utensils
